During the conference, products and services will be presented at exhibition stands. Cities and regions from different countries can present their potentials.

cooperation-east supports the foundation "The power of children" which is in preparation. The aim of the foundation will be to help children in need worldwide. In addition to social projects, one focus will be the development of educational institutions, which will focus on the acquisition of skills in the fields of technology, science and English. The foundation will have, among other things, a publishing house. The books "The power of children" and "The power of dwarfs" will soon be available in German and English. Responsible: Hans-Jürgen Hellberg.
